over tax

PROTESTORS against the Household charge have asked people "not to panic" after homeowners in the county received warning letters seeking payment of €127 - which includes a penalty for late payment.

Information meetings are scheduled to take place this week in Tallaght and Clondalkin, opponents of the charge said.

The first batch of warning letters to owneroccupiers, believed not to have paid the charge, was justice. issued last week.

Up to then only landlords or second home owners had been sent letters reminding them of their household charge liabilities.

Mick Murphy, Socialist Party representative for Dublin South West and Against Campaign Household and Water Tax spokesperson for the area, is "calling on people not to panic and not to pay."

The next information meeting will be on October 31 in the Abberley Court Hotel at 8pm. A meeting is also scheduled for the Waterside in Clondalkin on November 1 at 7pm.

Residents urged 'not to panic' We will The sidents of the sident fighting for Robert

Family of coma dad want those behind shooting to face justice

AS TRAGIC young dad Robert Delany enters his fifth year in the coma he was left in after he was blasted by a lone gunman, his distraught family say they are more determined than ever that those behind the shooting are brought to recover.

Robert was aged 27 when he was shot in the told us but life is still very face while looking out of the window of his Tallaght, on October 24, 2008, in response to an intercom call at 6.30am.

has two young daughters, has been in a vegetative state and spent three years at Tallaght Hospital before care.

the fourth On "Robert is still in a believed, Robert was

By Mary Dennehy mary@echo.ie permanent vegetative state and doctors have told us that he will never

"We have to try and accept what doctors have hard.

"We are trying to get on apartment in Russell Rise, with life as usual but everyday we visit Robert there is no closure for us even after a number of Since then Robert, who developments in the case."

In August 2011 it emerged that Finglas gangster Daniel Gaynor (25), who was shot dead being moved to Peamount that month in a gangland-Hospital - which can style killing, was one of the provide more long-term chief suspects in the attack on Robert.

Sources revealed that the anniversary of his son's slain gun-for-hire was paid shooting, Robert's dad €10,000 to kill the young Terry told The Echo: Tallaght dad, after, it is intervention in a row in a Delany unknown to Robert, difficult for those who involved the son of a issued my son's death Republican figure.

BLASTED: Robert Delany was shot in the face

In February of this year, Robert's shooting in 2010 added. but released, received a 20hit.

case developments but nobody has actually been Shatter. held accountable for the attack on Robert.

"Daniel Gaynor is dead and the second lad was iailed for stealing the car as opposed to his involvement 6666000 or leave a post on in the shooting.

"The message we are lence.ie. sending out is that those brought to justice.

targeted following his Robert's death and the family local pub - which, determined to make life sentence.

"It's not right that they a man, who had been are out there living their arrested in relation to lives as normal," Terry

Robert's family and month jail sentence for friends kickstarted the stealing the car used in the Justice for Robert Delany, Innocent Victim of Terry said: "People Violence campaign - which always think that the family has received support from should be happy with the Taoiseach Enda Kenny and Justice Minister Alan

Anybody with information about the attack on Robert is encouraged to contact Tallaght Garda Station on www.innocentvictimsofvio

The family are also who organised and offering a 620,000 reward financed the hit will be for any information leading to the conviction of "Somebody sentenced Robert's assailants.